

Weekly Writer's Notebook

Level - Grades 3-7

Originated by Treetop Publishing

Writing is an important tool that students should practice regularly. By offering students a writer's notebook and making writing prompts available for them, an educator can really inspire and help develop an important life skill.

Have your students write entries once a week for three weeks. On the fourth week develop one of the entries into a poem or short story. This process should be repeated for each month throughout the year, and at the end of the year each student can edit their final work to create an anthology of their writing.

Have your students edit and re-write their best pieces of writing into a Bare Book. This project will not only allow each students writing to develop on a weekly basis, but it will also provide a great keepsake and memory or your class.

Prompt Ideas:

If I knew how to	In 20 years I will be...	In the year 2099
If I could fly I would	Friendship is	The day it snowed 20 ft
My worst fear is	My pet dinosaur	If I were invisible
Its the funniest thing	If I had three wishes	If I were an animal, I'd be a
If I won the lottery	Good Luck Charms	If I could make the rules
Rainbows	My dog would say	The noise under my bed
I woke up 1" tall	Dream Car	If I could live anywhere
My worst mistake	About my homework...	My favorite season is